DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 19, 1833

THE RELIGIOUS SOUVENIR, for 1834.—We have looked over this little work, and read many of the articles, with much gratification. The plates, which are seven or eight in number, are decidedly better than those in the same Annual, for 1833; the mechanical execution is also greatly improved, and the selection of matter, both Poetry and Prose, is highly respectable. The tales of the Intemperate, the Avalanche, and the Christian Daughter, are well told, and deeply interesting. Of the Poetical articles, we were particularly pleased with "Paul before the Areopagus," the "Departure of the Israelites from Egypt," and especially the very beautiful little piece—"The Heart is Fixed," which we published some days ago. As to the moral and religious tendency of this little book, we think the editor is fully sustained in the declarations which he makes in the preface, "that not one word can be found in it which does not honor or advance Religion," and that, "as a present for a Christian to give, it is unexceptionable."

NEW AND SURPRISING.—We give to our readers, to day, foreign news one day later than that before presented—the death of the king of Spain is confirmed—disturbances in that country are likely to ensue—the defection of Bourmont seems also to be true—Don Pedro had challenged Miguel—Maelzel had a rival in mechanism, in a French watchmaker.—These, and various other matters, strange and wonderful, will be found in our columns to day. The following paragraph, however, which we reserve for a place under the editorial head, will appear most strange and marvelous to the citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. It is from the Lycoming Gazette.

"We state, UPON THE MOST UNQUESTIONABLE AUTHORITY, that, the President disapproves, in the strongest terms, of all interference in State elections by the officers of the general government, and will, in due time, take care that all who hold office under him, shall attend alone to their official duties, and leave politics and elections to the people and the States."

If the editor in Lycoming wished to gain credit, in this county, to this astounding declaration, he should have attached an affidavit and a notarial seal to it.

NEW YORK AND PENNSYLVANIA CANALS.—The following remarks, of the New York American, upon a statement which appeared in our paper on the 8th instant, shows that the advantages which Pennsylvania possesses, begin to be felt, or at least seen, in New York.

"Pennsylvania Canal.—It is stated in an official report of the receipts and businoss of this canal, ending on 1st November, that the canal was only closed one month during the year, February, and such, it is added, has been the case ever since it was first opened. This is a fact of great interest to New York, as unless we can compensate by a reduction of tolls and greater facilities of transportation, for the greatly longer period (from three to four months,) during which, the Erie canal is closed, we may be in danger of seeing a considerable portion of its trade to the far West diverted."

NEWS BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL!!

From the United States Gazette.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival at this port of the ship Susquehanna, Capt. Dixey, we have our files of London papers to the 8th of October, and Liverpool to the 9th, inclusive.

The most important intelligence is the confirmation of the report of King Ferdinand's death.

From the Liverpool Courier, of Oct. 9.

The failure of Bourmont's attacks on Lisbon, and the subsequent abandonment of most, if not all, the French officers, may, we presume, be considered as having given the coup de grace to the Miguelite cause, unless it should turn out that the Carlists make common cause with Miguel, an event by no means improbable, in consequence of the death of the King of Spain, as it is said that the apostolicals are gathering together both men and money for the aid of Carlos. The Queen had, as a matter of course, in conformity with the will of her husband, assumed the regency. No alteration had been made in the ministry; but M. Zea Bermudez is stated to be at the head of the regency council, and, as he is believed to be in favor of absolutism and the Holy Alliance, many of the continental politicians think that the tranquillity of Spain will not long remain undisturbed. It is, indeed, impossible to say to what lengths men, deeply imbued with fanaticism, and urged on by a bigoted priesthood, may proceed; but, however long the contest may be protracted, there is, we think, but one result to be calculated upon and hoped for in the event of a struggle between the Carlists and the Constitutionalists.

LONDON, October 7.

City, Twelve o'clock.—"The advices received this morning from Paris, confirmatory of the accounts of Saturday, relative to the death of the King of Spain, have caused a rather considerable advance in the price of the Cortes Bonds, which have been as high as 24 buyers, but are now at 23½ ¾. The same effect was produced on the Bourse, in Paris, the Rentes d'Espagne having advanced from 16 to 18. The French Funds were rather heavy, the 3 per cents. have closed at 75f. 30c. for the end of the month. The Miguelite Loan had suffered from the accounts of the retreat of Marshal Bourmont, the large quotation having been 48.

"The state of the Quarter's Revenue is looked for with some degree of anxiety, as rumors relative to it are afloat, but nothing to be depended upon has yet transpired. The Consol Market is rather heavy, the quotation having been 87 1-8 sellers, but is now 88 7-8 ¼ for the account.

There is no arrival from Portugal.

From Galignani's (Paris) Messenger, Oct. 5.

Death of the King of Spain.—The Moniteur announces this long expected event in the following terms:—

"The King of Spain died on the 29th ult., at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A telegraphic dispatch, sent off by M. de Rayneval, announced the event to the Government, yesterday. In conformity to the last will of his Catholic Majesty, the Queen Dowager has been declared Regent, during the minority of the young Queen Isabella. The ministry has not been changed. Madrid was perfectly tranquil. A courier sent out last night with orders for M. de Rayneval to declare that the French government is disposed to recognize the new Sovereign as soon as it shall have received the necessary notification."

M. Jules de Larochefoucauld, one of the King's Aides de Camp, set out, it is said, yesterday morning for Madrid, with dispatches, among which are autograph letters from his Majesty and the Queen to the widowed Queen of Ferdinand VII.

We learn from Madrid that a Council of Regency was formed just before the King's death to assist the Queen in the government of the kingdom. It consists of five members, namely, the Infante Don Francisco de Paule, the Duke de l'Infantado, M. Zea Bermudez, the Bishop of Seville, and General Castagnos.

There seems to be trouble in different parts of France.

On the night of the 29th ult., a great number of proclamations, ornamented with the ancient armorial bearings of France, were disseminated about Bordeaux, calling upon the people to acknowledge Henry V. as heir to the throne; others invited the inhabitants to revolt, announcing the coronation of the young Duke.

STOCK JOBBING.

A correspondent of the London Guardian, gives the following account of what is denominated a stock jobbing scheme by the King of the French.

The scandalous scene exhibited in the letter of our Paris Correspondent of the Stock Exchange gambling, consequent on the telegraphic communication of the death of the King of Spain, will be read here with surprize and disgust; nor will those feelings be mitigated on a consideration of the circumstances and parties by whom the heartless and unprincipled speculations must have been encouraged, if not actually carried on.

It is well known that the King of the French has the Paris telegraph in his own keeping, and permits no one of his ministry even to have access to it. It has been a source of more than one quarrel between Louis Phillippe and his various Ministers; it has broken up more than one projected administration. Casimir Perier, after various refusals to take office, without having also the command of the telegraph, at length compelled the news loving or stock jobbing (for people will read the matter diversely,) monarch to give it up; but he eagerly availed himself of that absolute Premier's death, to make better terms with the weakly Cabinets that have followed.

Now the telegraphic account of the death of Ferdinand reached Paris at two o'clock in the day—that is, reached the King. From that moment, up to half past three, considerable quantities of stock were sold—by whom? The news might and ought to have been communicated to the Duc de Broglie, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, but we willingly acquit that honorable person of degrading or betraying his high office by bargainings on the Bourse. He himself seems to have been unaware of the intelligence until later in the day, and consequently could not communicate the event, as in common courtesy bound, to the diplomatic corps, more especially to the Spanish Minister, at an earlier hour than he did; which was late in the evening. Who then was the great operator? If Louis Phillippe, surely France ought to make him give an account of the winnings, or pay a rent for the exclusive use of the telegraph, for the benefit of the State.

The London Guardian contains a lengthy essay on the life and character of Ferdinand of Spain, from which we select one sentence:

"Reared in the most corrupt and profligate court in Europe, of which his own mother was the Messalina, and Godoy, her favorite, the Sejanus, he may be said to have inhaled contamination with the very milk upon which he was fed. The fruits of such an education, and an atmosphere so hotly impregnated, blossomed early."

The defection of Bourmont is partially confirmed—although another rumor, for the sake of speculating on stocks, (as was the principal cause of the rumor relative to his capitulation,) is not improbable. But the French journals also contain advices concerning his defection; and assert that he retired discontented, because his advice was not followed.

Colonel Evans had reviewed the troops of Donna Maria; and asserted that, even with an army of 30,000 men, Lisbon, in its present state of defence, could not successfully be assailed.

It was idly rumored that Pedro had challenged Miguel to single combat, but that his offer had been refused—Miguel conjecturing that though his own death might decide the contest in favor of Donna Maria, yet that his brother's death would not decide it for himself.

From a late London Paper.

Names of all the New and Fashionable Silks to be worn this Autumn, &c.—1. The satin Trianon, an imitation of the foulard, but much more brilliant, and forming richer drapery. 2. The China satin, equally beautiful. 3. The Lithuanian, a sort of tissue, remarkable for its freshness and pliability. 4. The Donna Maria, a shaded and most magnificent silk, now fabricated in England, adapted to full dress, or opera costume. 5. The Valentine, a slighter silk. 6. The Haytien. 7. The Fleur d'Anges, the most beautiful gauze tissue ever made, fit only for ball dresses and full dress turbans. All these may be now purchased in London, though some of them have scarcely seen the light.

FASHIONABLE COLORS FOR OCTOBER.—Raymond blue, every shade of bright green, jonquil color Marron, Scableuse, rose color, (of a deeper tint,) Bishop's purple and cherry color.

In 1767, there were not thirty thousand persons employed in the silk manufacture; now, in consequence of inventions, which the workmen, at the very time of their introduction, endeavored to destroy, there are at least a million.—Imperial Magazine.

The unprecedentedly rapid development of the growth and productiveness of the Press in the United States is briefly and happily delineated in the following article from the New York Evening Star:

The growth of our country.—When the Provincial Congress at Watertown, in Massachusetts, were collecting the facts of the battle of Bunker Hill, they made inquiry, and found that the number of papers then printed in the thirteen colonies were only twenty six. One or two of them were in the hands of tories. In the whig papers they printed the statement of this affair, which had been erroneously published in New York and Philadelphia, from rumors. No one, then, had any suspicion of the slaughter made among the veteran troops of the British forces. The British official return of killed and wounded in that battle did not reach this country until the next season. The patriotism of the people soon, notwithstanding all the distresses of the revolutionary war, called for a more general diffusion of intelligence, and several new papers were established, but generally of a small size, and issued but once a week. On examining some of them, at this day, it is found that there is much spirited writing in them. Many men of patriotic feeling and fine intelligence, who were so situated that they could not take up arms, took up their pen to enlighten the public mind, and a high tone was given to the bold yeomanry and hardy mechanics of the country by the dissertations in the periodicals of the day. It was the advice of Dr. Franklin never to suffer the energies of the press to abate. He knew that the press was as powerful as the sword, and he was a better writer than fighter, although he had, at one time of his life, held a military command. There was a great difficulty felt during this eventful period, in obtaining materials for printing papers and pamphlets upon. Large book printing was entirely suspended while the war lasted. Several timely supplies of paper were brought from the Mediterranean in our vessels, who had carried their dried fish to Lisbon and other Catholic countries; but not half enough to meet our wants.—Some of the letters of Washington and other officers of distinction, were written on paper that a pastry cook would not now deign to use, in her profession, as being too coarse.

The spirit of the country was awake at the close of the war, and those who had read papers, could not do without them. Semi weekly papers were soon established in the large cities, and weekly periodicals increased. The first were a luxury indeed, supported principally by the mercantile interest; but in 1789, when the Federal constitution went into operation, the number of new papers had not reached an hundred in the United States. The desire of the people in becoming acquainted with the proceedings of Congress, and to gain information from abroad, soon caused them to multiply; and when the democratic party grew up, and difference of opinion spread through the land, additional papers were found to issue from almost every growing village. Increase of appetite has grown with what it fed on, and is now almost insatiable. Daily papers are now as necessary as weekly ones were half a century ago; and their size has, in many instances, quadrupled the size of a paper of that day.—The elephantine sheet of the Courier and Enquirer, contains, on its weekly issues, more matter, to use the printer's phrase, than the yearly volume of any one of the first papers printed in New York. Then, advertisements appeared but rarely; the columns were filled with politics, news, or elaborate dissertations upon government, morals, agriculture, and historical facts. The first page was honored with the most important articles. The last was not first, as now. A reader sat down to a newspaper, as he would to a book, and finished it with the last advertisement. He did not know how to evicerate an hundred before breakfast, as the editor of a daily has to do at the present time; but, peradventure, he remembered as much as he now does.

It was said, fifteen years ago, that newspapers could not increase; the world was full of them; but it is an unquestionable fact that, within that space of time the number has doubled in the United States; and it is equally undeniable that there are more distinct newspaper establishments here, than all other countries united can number. They have become almost as necessary to the existence of the republic, as any article of food or raiment in common wear among us. It was also said, that such a diffusion of periodicals would destroy a taste for the reading of books, but books, and great books, and large editions of them, are more rapidly increasing than newspapers. Prophesy fails, and calculation is staggered, when the growth of our country is contemplated.

In reference to the number of deaths in New York, by consumption, and the preponderating prevalence of that disease among the female sex, the Commercial Advertiser asks—

"Is there no way to check its ravages? There is one, certainly, worthy of much consideration. It is well known, that in cold and wet weather, men prepare themselves for the worst. They are thickly clad at all points, and their feet are ever guarded by boots and over shoes, while, on the contrary, women expose themselves in slight dresses and thin shoes, let the weather be ever so inclement. As most of the deaths by consumption are of females, and the fact we have stated in regard to their dress is notoriously true, it is fair and just to conclude that this disorder is by that means contracted. Let females, then, be more guarded against exposure to the weather, and our bills of mortality will be sensibly diminished."

It is not generally known that about a month ago, Montreal was visited by Miss Jannette Taylor, niece of the celebrated Paul Jones. She came to this continent for the purpose of prosecuting her claims as heiress of the great property belonging to her uncle, in the United States. Miss T. is daughter of Paul Jones' only sister, who married a Mr. Taylor, a watchmaker, in Dumfries, Scotland. A friend of ours, an old Dumfriesian, remembers well of its being a famous play among the school boys of those days, to besiege Mr. Taylor's house, and annoy him with singing a nursery rhyme about Paul Jones, which invariably was the precurser of a mile heat, and a sound drubbing to the unfortunate wight, who happened to be caught. Mrs. Taylor seemed rather to enjoy the joke, as she would often come to the door, and laugh at the race. Miss Taylor was, a short time ago, enjoying the hospitality of the Hon. Mr. Clark, at Niagara, who, though an exile from the "bonny winding Nith," is as clannish as a Gollovidian could desire. Miss Taylor is, in person, rather under the middle size, and inclines a little to en bon point. Her manners are agreeable, and the bright twinkle of her dark eye bespeaks great energy and vivacity. We know not the nature of her claims; but, as far as we could learn, they are very extensive and well authenticated; but, with the knowledge of the manner in which the claims of Sir John Johnston were set aside, our hopes are small of her being able to recover her rights. —Montreal Herald.

Important from Hayti.—Extract of a letter from St. Jago de Cuba, dated the 17th October:—

"We have in our roads, for several days, the French brig Le Cuirassier, which has been despatched to Hayti, by the French Government, to carry the ultimatum of the King of the French respecting the immediate payment of the indemnity, in default whereof, it is said, an expedition would be fitted out against the island.

The negroes must be in great anxiety, as in fact, it must be a matter of some difficulty for them to collect together a sum of twenty millions of dollars. On Monday the brig will go back to Port au Prince for the purpose of obtaining Boyer's answer. It is stated the expedition must now be in the neighborhood, but this wants confirmation."

Lord Byron never thought that he would be quoted in a Court of Justice as authority. And yet we see in a case before the U. S. Circuit Court in N. York—

"Mr. Burr for the defence, raised the question of jurisdiction of this admiralty court, inasmuch as the bay of Marseilles is formed as a basin, through a narrow neck or entrance, where the tide does not ebb or flow. That the Agnes was lying half a mile from shore, moored head and stern.—That in consequence of the bay being as above conditioned, it would not be considered "on the high seas," as prescribed in the statute. He quoted Dr. Morse's Gazetteer, in which it is said "There is no tide in the bay of Naples;" and likewise referred to a stanza of Lord Byron, who represents the bay as having no tide, and the moon no influence upon it."

If law students are to be referred hereafter to Byron and Scott, we are afraid Coke and Blackstone will not be used as they ought to be.—Alex. Gaz.

How to get a tight Ring off a Finger.—Thread a needle flat in the eye, with strong thread: pass the head of the needle with care, under the ring, and pull the thread through a few inches towards the hand; wrap the long end of the thread tightly round the finger, regularly all down to the nails, to reduce its size. Then lay hold of the shortest end of the thread and unwind it. The thread, pressing against the ring, will gradually remove it from the finger. This never failing method will remove the tightest ring without difficulty, however swollen the finger may be.—Liverpool Times.

Many persons believed that Mr. Duane, on finding his own views on the subject of removing the public deposits different from those of the President, had voluntarily resigned his situation as Secretary of the Treasury—but such it now officially appears, was not the fact. He was removed by the President, because he would not act contrary to the dictates of his own conscience and judgment. We have seen the rumor stated, that Mr. Duane intends laying before Congress, an exposition of the circumstances connected with the transfer of the deposits and his own dismissal from office. It may be, that he will deem such a course proper; but should he not, we entertain little doubt that he will be required by Congress to give testimony in the case—for, we consider it impossible for Congress to pass over this matter without investigation.—Balt. Chron.

From Vera Cruz.—Captain Kennedy, of the brig Spark, which arrived at New Orleans on the 31st ult. from Vera Cruz, informs that three or four days previous to his sailing, the Cholera reappeared there, and that the deaths from it amounted to from 10 to 15 a day. Business was in a state of stagnation. No news of importance from the interior had been received at Vera Cruz when the S. left.—Poulson.

From the New Orleans Bulletin, (Extra) Nov. 1.

Loss of the steamers New Brunswick and St. Martin.—Extract from the log book of the steamer Black Hawk, P. S. Hortshorn, master, from Cincinnati.

Oct. 29th, 5 o'clock, P. M. fell in with the wreck of the steamboat New Brunswick, from this port, bound to St. Louis, with a full cargo, at the foot of Island 98; took on board one of her crew, from whom we learned that she took fire on the 28th, at 4 o'clock, P. M., and was entirely consumed. No lives were lost; every thing belonging to the boat was entirely destroyed.

Further Extracts—Loss of the steamer St. Martin. Oct. 31st, came along side of the wreck of the St. Martin, about 2 miles above Donaldsonville—rendered all the assistance possible to those that were saved. The St. Martin was from Bayou Sarah, bound to this place; had on board 500 bales cotton and 90 hhds. sugar. She was discovered to be on fire at 12 o'clock (noon) and melancholy to relate, about 30 or 40 lives were lost; of the number now recollected are Capt. Cash, the Clerk, 2nd Mate, 2 cooks, the chamber maid, 2nd steward and 5 firemen—of Passengers, as far as can be ascertained, Capt. Sengstack, N. N. Moss, Esq., of New Orleans, and servant, Mr. Whitney of Franklin, La., Mr. Easton and servant, Mr. Aller, Mr. Wilks, of Bayou Sarah, and Lady, name unknown and 3 slaves. It is said by several of the passengers that she had on board about $50,000, belonging to some of the Banks in New Orleans, which is lost.

JOHN W. OWES,
Clerk of Steamer Black Hawk.

Massachusetts Election.—Ninety four towns give Davis, the National Republican candidate for Governor, 11,954, Adams, (Anti Masonic,) 9,035; Morton, (Jackson,) 7,732; Allen, Working Men's candidate, 1,263. There is no probability of a choice by the people. The election will, therefore, be made by the Legislature, in the following way: Out of the four persons having the highest number of votes, the House of Representatives will select two, and of these two the Senate will select one, who will thereupon be declared Governor for the ensuing year.

In the Norfolk Congressional District there is again no choice. In the townships heard from, General Dearborn has 1,610 votes; Jackson, 1,553; Thurber 617.

In Essex County it is believed there is no choice for State Senators. In Plymouth County, no choice. In Middlesex, but one Senator is elected, viz: Nathaniel Austin, who was on the National Republican and Anti Masonic tickets. In Norfolk, the Anti Masonic candidates for the Senate are elected. In Bristol, the Anti Masonic candidates, probably.

Vermont.—We are gratified to learn, by a letter from Montpelier, that one of the last Acts of the Legislature of Vermont, which closed its session lately, was to appropriate $1,200, yearly, for ten years, to enable the indigent blind of that state to avail themselves of the New England Asylum for the blind. This handsome vote passed unanimously, and was no doubt suggested by the exhibition of Dr. Howe's pupils before the members of the Legislature on Monday last.—Boston Mer. Journal.

FRANCE—Adult Population.—The number of males capable of bearing arms, and being neither married men nor widowers, was, at the close of 1832, as under:—

The following article, respecting the supposed successor of Marshal Bourmont, is from the London Globe.

"A correspondent says, that the General Macdonald who is left to command the troops of Don Miguel, was some years ago a bankrupt in this country as a wine merchant. He is well known to the house of Reay and Nephews, of Marklane. He adds that Marshal Beresford used to say of him, that he was the only man who could make the Portuguese fight.

Labor saving inventions.—The constant, almost daily inventions of machinery for the saving of human labor in our country, especially in New England, has had, and will continue to have, a powerful influence upon the productions of wood and iron. This, with the aid of steam, has multiplied and cheapened the comforts of life beyond the anticipations of the calculating and most sanguine.

We were lately requested by a friend to examine and witness the performance of Wiswall's new invented machine for cutting spokes for wheels, and the only wonder is, that a machine so exceedingly simple as this is, and quite a desideratum in the manufacture of wheels, should have remained ages undiscovered before. It performs, as we are informed, the labor of 20 men; it occupies but little space, not two yards square. It is not liable to get out of order—its whole construction being iron, and requires but a small power to operate it—any common laborer can work as well as the most experienced wheelwright.—Altogether we view this invention of Mr. Wiswall as an important acquisition to labor saving machinery—and, beside, it cannot fail to add to our country's reputation in mechanical arts.—N. Y. Star.

Maelzel has a rival it seems in mechanism. A French watchmaker constructed a piece of machinery which is described in a French journal as doing pretty much every thing that an intelligent being could do, and many things that would puzzle human intelligence itself to perform.

FREAKS OF NATURE.—We have seen a specimen of the freaks of nature, in two fishes, resembling catfish, which are joined together at the abdomen, from the head down about half an inch, a counterpart so far as descriptions enlighten us, of the junction of the Simese Twins. One of the fishes is about 31-2 and the other 2 1-2 inches long—both alive when taken. This prodigy is in possession of Major CHURCHILL, at Fort Johnston, Smithville, and was caught in a shrimp net. The Major intends to present it to a museum.

THE RETURN.

BY MISS L. E. LANDON.

Nantz is a fair city, but it seemed the very fairest in the world to the traveler, for he had been absent for years—he left it poor, but he came back rich, and the home of his youth was again to be the home of his age.

"Drop down your oars, the waters trace
Their own path fast enough for me;
Life sometimes asks a breathing place—
Such I am fain this hour should be.

Fair city, I am come once more;
Travel and toil are on my brow;
With all I thought so great of yore—
With all I think so little now!

Sorrow for friends I've left behind—
Misgiving fears were with me then;
And yet I bore a lighter mind
Than now I see those walls again.

Hope is youth's prophet, and foretells
The future that its wish reveals;
The energy that in us dwells
Then judges but by what it feels.

And it feels buoyant spirits, health,
And confidence and earnestness;
And it ascribes such power to wealth
Which but to seek is to possess.

The future was my own; my life
Has passed as many men's have passed;
Adventure, trouble, sorrow, strife,
Yet with success, and home at last.

But hope has fled, on morning's wings,
And memory sits with darken'd eye;
And I have learn'd life's dearest things
Are those which never wealth could buy.

Affection's circle soon grows less—
The dead, the changed, what blanks are there!
And what avails half life's success,
No early friends can see or share?

My heart has still turned back through years,
Whose shadow now around me falls;
I dread to turn to truth the fears,
The hopes in yonder city's walls.

How fair a scene, the morning light,
And human life's most cheerful sound,
The banks so glad, the stream so bright,
I hear my native tongue around.

Oh! for some voice I used to hear,
The grasp of one familiar hand;
So long desired, and now so near—
On, boatman, on, I long to land."

SONNET.—A VILLAGE TOMBSTONE.

Approach! thou visitant of gorgeous tombs,
And costly mausoleums, whose august
And sculptured massiveness bespeaks the dust
Beneath once noble,—here no statue glooms
Rebuke from its dark niche, nor earth resumes
Her own with ghastly pageantry: nor bust,
Nor aught of grandeur's dim heraldic trust,
Here flatters the poor clay that clay consumes, [ed,
Approach, and mark where last the soul hath heav-
And trace one record of the lowly dead,—
"He lived—he died." What sculptor e'er achieved
More on rich marble, trusted not when read?
This simple stone speaks truth, and is believed.

HARRISBURGH CHRONICLE—EXTRA. Published, Twice a Week, by Hugh Hamilton & Son.—Reports of Proceedings of the Pennsylvania Legislature.—The Harrisburgh Chronicle will contain a concise and faithful report of the proceedings and debates of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, which will commence its session in Harrisburgh, on the first Tuesday of December next. The Senior Editor will report in one of the legislative branches, and an experienced and competent Reporter is engaged to attend in the other. Such reports will be furnished as are calculated to put the reader in possession of a history of the Session of 1833-4; to do which, the faculty of condensation shall be employed for the benefit of the reader, even though it may sometimes be unpleasant to the legislator; for the topics that must, of course, come up for discussion, will be more numerous, important, and diversified than they have been heretofore, and there is every probability that the exciting questions that must necessarily be agitated in Congress, will also become exciting questions in the Legislature of the State, and add to the interest of the Session.

The proceedings of the Legislature of the State are full of interest to the citizen, and an intimate acquaintance with them is almost an indispensable requisite, when he comes forward on election day to exercise his sovereignty in the capacity of a voter. Hence every citizen ought to possess a fair and faithful report of the proceedings, and it is hoped that those who do not choose the Chronicle will take some other paper for this purpose.

A Partner Wanted.

THE Subscriber, being possessed of a valuable property in the Borough of Brownsville, in the county of Fayette, and state of Pennsylvania, in a public part of the town, consisting of two and a half lots of ground, bounded by Water street on the north, and the National Road on the south, say 150 feet on each, by 180 feet in depth, on which are erected one large three story Brick Dwelling House, one two story Brick Dwelling House, one Brick Foundry, one three story Stone and Brick Engine Shop; the whole of which are finished for the purposes intended. A considerable business has been and still is carried on in Manufacturing Steam Engines for Steam Boats, Mills, Furnaces, &c. &c.; the Castings for which are made at the foundry; also, other Castings, such as Grates, Stoves, and a variety of other articles, all of which are in demand. The subscriber is fully sensible that an extensive and profitable business could be carried on by an accession of Capital: he therefore wishes to sell one half the above described property to some person as a partner, who would have a few thousand dollars. Brownsville is well situated for such an establishment, being on the Monongahela river, which is navigable the greater part of the year: plenty of good stone coal in the whole vicinity, and in the neighborhood of a number of Furnaces, and as healthy a situation as any in the United States. A further description is deemed unnecessary, as any person wishing to purchase will come and view the premises.

JOHN SNOWDON, Jr.

DAILY PAPER AT HARRISBURGH.—The subscribers propose to publish a Daily Paper during the coming session of the Legislature, provided a sufficient number of subscribers are procured to warrant the expense. The necessity of a daily journal at the seat of government, impartial as to politics, and giving the debates of both houses, fully, faithfully, and daily, has long since been acknowledged. Such a paper cannot be sustained in Harrisburg, unless the citizens of other sections of the state come forward and aid in its support. At the present stage of our improvement system, and fiscal conserns of the commonwealth, a daily paper, the statements of which can be depended upon, published at the seat of government, must be a desideratum of all parties. We therefore shall expect that exertions will be made in every section of the state to procure us subscribers.

The Daily Pennsylvania Intelligencer will be printed on a half imperial sheet, for five dollars (in advance,) during the session. It will not only contain full and impartial daily reports of the proceedings of the Legislature, but will contain a summary of the proceedings of Congress, besides news and miscellaneous reading. ☞Post Masters and Agents procuring four subscribers, shall receive a fifth copy gratis.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1 tract of land	containing		330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
other lots, containing about			6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States--In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
